Jennifer Goodwin

Founder & Managing Director

Navigating the world of insurance can be a daunting prospect. When I first moved to Switzerland from Manchester (UK) in 2004, I couldn't imagine for a second it would be so difficult to not only understand how the Swiss insurance system works, but also to find the best solutions to suit my budget and lifestyle. Since then, I have built up a comprehensive and trusted network of insurance providers with the goal of directly assisting local, and expat communities and, in 2009, I established Inswift Sàrl. So far, I have helped over 3,500 clients navigate the maze and find the most suited insurance solutions. I speak English and French fluently and have some knowledge of German, but most importantly I'm fluent in the language of insurance, and I'd love to help you speak it too.

Our Portfolio

HEALTH Everyone living in Switzerland is legally required to have health insurance. We can help you weigh up your options based on your requirements.

HOME Whether you own or rent your home, you will need liability and content insurance. Building, Construction, and Rental Guarantee insurance may also be needed. VEHICLE If you own any motorised vehicle, you will need to take out separate insurance. BUSINESS If you are self-employed, whether as a sole trader or small business owner, it is essential to consider which insurance coverage you need to make sure you're adequately covered. We can advise you on all aspects of compulsory insurance, depending on the type of business you run. RETIREMENT PLANNING If you are staying in Switzerland, we can advise you about long-term income protection, third pillar and life insurance.

LEGAL INSURANCE It protects you against any financial consequences arising from legal disputes.

MISCELLANEOUS Travel, pets, valuables, just ask!
